CLINTON, Ky., Sept. 23.-Attorney tieneral Taylor, republican cambidate for governor, spoke here Saturday afternoon to a large crowd It is evident that about all of those who were for Brown have gone over budily to the Republican candidate. The speech of Gen. Taylor was full of witty allusions and laughable anecdotes, and he kept his audience, especially the negroes, in a mar the greater part of the time. That element which pinned its faith to Cleveland three years ago was not particularly delighted with Mr. Taylor's aiusions to its idol, for he was severe upon Grover. He attributed all of the ills of the people from 1884 to 1888 to Cleveland's administration and likswise from 1892 to 1896. He spoke feelingly of the benellts of high protective tariff. His discussion of state issues was along the same lines as in previous speeches.
